

Meet the Incline's 100,000th Rider for 2008!

On June 29, 2008, Scott Sagerser of Olympia, Washington became the Incline's 100,000th rider of 2008.

Sagerser was visiting Somerset, Pa., where he was serving as a chaperone for a 4H exchange program. Scott Rhoads of Jennerstown, Pa., who was also serving as a chaperone for the program, accompanied him. The two, who had only met each other three days prior, came to the Incline specifically in hopes of becoming the 100,000th rider.

"I can't believe that I'm the 100,000th rider," Sagerser exclaimed. "We heard about the promotion, but I didn't want to get my hopes up too much. I mean, what are the odds?"

This was Sagerser's first time in Western Pennsylvania. "I'm loving it here. The people are nice, the scenery is beautiful, and the Incline is a great combination of that," he said.

Thanks for making the Incline a part of your visit, Scott!
